PATRICIA GARTLAND, PRINCIPAL OF INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION INVITED TO BE AN AMBASSADOR FOR THE CITY OF COQUITLAM (April 29, 2005)

City of Coquitlam Mayor, Jon D.H. Kingsbury has extended invitation to be an Ambassador for the city.

The principal behind the Ambassador Program is a simple one; word-of-mouth communication becomes a powerful tool when prominent individuals, such as Patricia Gartland connect with other decision makers in different parts of the world. The City of Coquitlam has created a compact communication piece to easily convey to others in her travels, why she chooses to live, work and play in Coquitlam.

Their Ambassadors are a diverse group of individuals from the business sector, publishing, Olympians, artists, athletes, teachers and developers. By becoming a member of the Ambassador Program she will be joining the likes of such individuals as Peter Legge, Publisher and CEO of Canada Wide Magazines & Communications Ltd., and Gary and Vicki Peters of Art in Motion.
